SKILLS: Blogger, Brand Ambassador, Entrepreneur, Influencer
INTERESTS: Business, Celebrity, Fashion, Food and Wine, Social Media

Leah Light has quietly grown herself a small empire using an impressive dose of good old fashioned determination and elbow grease.

Hugely passionate about making people feel good - and using quality products - she has built two successful beauty salons in Auckland.

Add to that a global distribution business, founding a sunless tanning range, and growing a successful social media presence - fair to say that Leah has been one busy lady!

Her dedication shows her strength of character. Rather than allowing herself to be pigeonholed into one space, Leah is also an outspoken parent and passionate about inspiring other women in business.

Social media has become a space Leah loves to spend time in, connecting with like-minded people, sharing her work and brands she loves.

Naturally creative, she's talented at curating content for brands that hits key campaign messaging - with a uniquely authentic feel.
