International sensation, Rachel Hunter, stole the heart of the nation from the minute she stepped in front of the camera in the early 1980s when she was just 17 years old. Since then she has steadily gone from strength to strength - growing, evolving, and shaping the fashion and media industry.

Effortlessly natural, Rachel is bubbly and down to earth. Her spark and beauty shone through the camera when she made her TV debut, in an infectiously fun ad for Tip Top ice-cream. From then on, she has forever been our golden girl.

Boasting a long and successful career in modelling, film, television and fashion design, Rachel has become an iconic household name – putting New Zealand on the map in the world of international media. Rachel has appeared in countless movies, TV series' and talk shows over the years. Most recently, her deeply personal television show, Tour of Beauty.

With Tour of Beauty, Rachel traveled the world in the eternal quest to find out how different cultures strive to stay healthy and youthful.

Her love for the outdoors and nature shines through in her social media presence. Rachel is active, outgoing and authentic with what she shares.

As a talented content creator with years of experience, Rachel understands what it takes to connect with an audience and would be a major asset to any campaign. She is also a wonderful natural speaker, who is authentic and warm onstage.

Rachel is also a staunch advocate for the Born Free Foundation, and supports the fight against breast cancer.
