Outgoing and bubbly, Viarni Bright shot to stardom following her success on the 2017 season of The Bachelor NZ.

The model-turned-influencer then found herself with a growing and very engaged following, as fans flocked in droves to keep up with her enviable snaps.

A natural beauty, it's easy to see why Viarni won the Girlfriend Magazine Model Search as a teenager. Her professionalism and charisma in front of the camera led to scores of opportunities, a contract in modelling, and work as a television presenter.

When Viarni was 19, she made it into the pool of Top 10 Finalists for the MTV Video Journalist search. This helped her hone her skill and get truly comfortable broadcasting. Since then Viarni has racked up tonnes of experience in front of the camera, which shines through with her ready smile, quick wit and relaxed manner when presenting Media savvy Viarni is a talented content creator, her years of modelling and current position Managing the showroom and multiple PR accounts for Public Library Showroom also gives her a sharp eye for composition, quality and detail. She's skilled at crafting professional images that ooze a 'polished yet effortless' vibe; painting any brand she pairs with in a great light.

Fitness focused, Viarni is passionate about her health and wellness. Viarni's socials reflect her personality: vibrant, happy and active. She's often pictured at the hottest events, laughing with friends and family, or enjoying a holistic life in the great outdoors.

A chilled-out 'it girl', Viarni is naturally fashionable and chic. Leading the charge on the latest trends, Viarni is unafraid to be bold. Her creative flare for fashion and styling is evident in her polished original looks.

Charitable at heart, Viarni ensures she makes time for the important things in life, frequently volunteering with charities she feels a personal connection to - such as Cure Kids, and Crohn's and Colitis NZ.
